Notwithstanding plaintiff's assertions to the contrary, defendants advise that they never "rejected" his request for a stipulation that all depositions be conducted by Skype or by telephone. On the record presented, however, it is not clear that defendants have agreed to it either. Accordingly, the parties are directed to meet-and-confer in good faith about the matter; and, if they are in agreement, they shall file a stipulation and proposed order clearly indicating their agreement. If good faith meet-and-confer negotiations fail to resolve the matter, the parties shall comply with the undersigned's Standing Order re Civil Discovery Disputes. (The parties are advised that any and all future discovery disputes must be presented in compliance
